PROCLAMATION
DEDICATING AND NAMING THE
CIRCUIT COURT COURTROOM IN HONOR OF
GAIL DAVIS JEFFERS

Whereas, Greene County, the Third Judicial District for the State of Tennessee and the area judicial and legal professions as well as the citizens of Greene County have been honored recipients of many years of dedicated and faithful service by Gail Davis Jeffers in a long, distinguished, and honorable career; and

Whereas, Gail Davis Jeffers served in a number of public service roles including Deputy Circuit Court Clerk, Executive Assistant in the Third Judicial District Attorney General's Office, Circuit Court Clerk for eighteen years, and then after her retirement as Circuit Court Clerk as the office manager for the Third Judicial District Drug Task Force; and

Whereas, Gail Davis Jeffers' service and community support extended greatly beyond the Glendale community that she loved and called home with service and support for St. Jude Research Hospital, the Boys and Girls Club, the Greene County Republican Party as well as the Republican Women of Greene County, the Women of the Moose and other community and charitable organizations; and

Whereas, Gail Davis Jeffers was the consummate public servant, tirelessly ensuring that the offices she managed and overseen functioned at a high-level providing service not only to the citizens she loved to serve but also the judges, attorneys, and businesses that relied upon her office; and

Whereas, while several commissioners have expressed their desire to sponsor a resolution to name the Circuit Court Courtroom at the Greene County Courthouse in her honor and to memorialize her contribution to Greene County, only four of the commissioners who first made the request to sponsor the resolution are so listed as sponsors – Kathy Crawford, Jan Kiker, Robin Quillen, and Michael Musick; and

Whereas, the Greene County Legislative Body on behalf of the citizens of Greene County collectively believe it is to be fitting and proper to dedicate and name the Circuit Court Courtroom at the Greene County Courthouse as the "Gail Davis Jeffers Circuit Court Courtroom"; and

Now, therefore, I, Kevin C. Morrison, Mayor of Greene County, TN, and the twenty-one members of the Greene County Legislative body do proclaim the Circuit Court Courtroom shall be dedicated henceforth, from today this 5th day of January in the year of our Lord, two thousand twenty-three as the "Gail Davis Jeffers Circuit Court Courtroom".

DISCUSSION ON DELINQUENT PROPERTY TAX SALE

Commissioner Lyle Parton expressed his concern in regards to the Greene County Delinquent Tax Board had previously voted in its meeting to hold the delinquent tax sale in person at the Greene County Courthouse, but that directive had not been followed. Commissioner Parton said he was worried that many purchasers of the properties with no intention of using them other than trying to sell them at a higher price a few years down the road.

Chancellor Doug Jenkins has set the delinquent property tax sale to be held online on December 29 at www.govease.com/auctions.

Commissioner Bowers said Chancellor Jenkins is scheduled to speak to the Commission at the January 2023 meeting. Commissioners asked if the delinquent tax sale scheduled for December 29, 2022 could be postponed until they had an opportunity to speak with Chancellor Jenkins at the January Commission Meeting.

Mayor Morrison stated, "If there is a decision to postpone the delinquent tax sale, a motion would need to be made to suspend the rules and request the Chancellor Jenkins to postpone the delinquent property tax sale on December 29, 2022.

Greene County Clerk and Master Kay Armstrong explained to the Commission that in May, Chancellor Jenkins ordered that Greene County hold its delinquent property tax auction online and that she followed this court order. She said the fees would be passed on to property purchases and that the online auction would not cost Greene County anything. Kay Armstrong said the contract was not between Greene County and GovEase, but the 3rd District Chancery Court and GovEase.

IN RE: Delinquent Tax Sale for the 2016 Taxes

Dear Chancellor Jenkins:

At Monday's December 19, 2022, meeting of the Greene County Legislative Body, the County Legislative Body discussed several issues that they individually have with having this delinquent tax sale online. During that meeting Commissioners were advised that both Hamblen and Hawkins Counties had conducted similar delinquent tax sales online with excellent results. Commissioner Lloyd "Hoot" Bowers had advised the County Legislative Body that you would be willing to come to the January 17, 2023, Legislative Body meeting to discuss the propriety of having future sales online and to give the Commissioners an opportunity to voice their concerns to you and to allow you to answer other questions they may have.

As discussed during the meeting, those concerns which Commissioners voted unanimously and directed me to express to you by letter included the additional charge of $375.00 that is added to the minimum bid price for each parcel to facilitate the online auction. Theoretically this additional charge could possibly result in the County and/or the County with the Town having to bid on certain of these parcels because potential buyers believe the minimum price is too high. Secondly, the Legislative Body was concerned about the possibility of absentee landowners from out of the region or state purchasing these properties and making no effort to maintain the properties purchased resulting in possible clean-up expenses for the County through the debris and overgrown vegetation ordinance. Next, the Legislative body was concerned about the inability of some of the local individuals who have in the past bid on properties or others who may want to possibly bid for the first time being unable to navigate the online bidding portal along with the requirement of a deposit for those who desire to bid. Lastly, Commissioners questioned the need to go to online platforms when the last two in-person auctions conducted by the Clerk & Master had been successful resulting in the Clerk not being required to purchase any properties on behalf of the County.

In that this tax sale is scheduled on Thursday, December 29, 2022, we understand that there would be additional expenses if this tax sale would be postponed. Nevertheless, the County Legislative Body wanted to formally request that the delinquent tax sale be postponed so that they could have communications with you about their concerns and understand your reasoning for having the Clerk and Master sell the properties online. Obviously, at the end of the day it is your decision whether you want to postpone the sale, but they did wish for me to forward this request as evidenced by their vote to you for your consideration.

In closing I am making this request on behalf of the Greene County Legislative Body as County Attorney. Obviously, I am not the Delinquent Tax Attorney who is prosecuting this case on behalf of Greene County. Nevertheless, at that meeting I was directed to convey to you the Legislative Body's concerns about the online tax sale that will occur next week.

Thank you for your consideration to this request.

Sincerely,

s/Roger A. Woolsey

IN RE: Delinquent Tax Sale on December 29, 2022

Dear Kay:

Previously Kay I have been advised that in previous delinquent tax sales, you, on behalf of Greene County have bid the property in when no other bidders bid the minimum amount to cover the delinquent taxes and the cost and expense for the sale.

It is my understanding from talking with Bill Nunnally, the Delinquent Tax attorney for Greene County, that at the Delinquent tax Sale occurring on December 29, 2022, you, as the Clerk of the Court acting and bidding on behalf of Greene County and the Town of Greeneville will bid the debt ascertained to be due for taxes, interest, penalties the cost and fees to the incident to the collection thereof for each parcel where no other bidder offers the same or larger bid. That this year you will be making those bids on behalf of both Greene County and the Town of Greeneville for any parcel for which both County and Town property taxes are due and owing. Obviously, this is my understanding of the mandate of T.C.A. § 67-5-2501(2). This is the best scenario for the County so that the County would not be obligated for both County and Town taxes on parcels of property where County and Town taxes are owing. If I am incorrect in that assumption that you will be bidding on behalf of both the County and Town of Greeneville for those parcels in the town, please let me know.

Further, following the vote of the County Legislative Body at the meeting last night and their vote I have been directed pursuant to the statute above referenced to advise you that for environmental risks and/or financial liabilities associated with certain parcels, the County Legislative Body is instructing you to not to place a bid for the properties identified as follows:

MEMORANDUM OPINION and ORDER

This matter is before the Court on a Motion from Attorney Roger Woolsey on behalf of the Greene County Commission to delay the upcoming tax sale because the Commission, for various reasons, objects to the conduct of the sale by online or virtual means and is desirous that the clerk & master conduct a traditional, in-person sale.

Initially, the Court considers whether the county commission, the governing body of the taxing entity for whom the tax sale is being conducted, has standing to object to the manner of sale chosen by the selling authorities. To make an objection to the manner of sale chosen by the interested parties in a tax sale (which includes the cities in the county, not just the county interests alone), a county commission would first be required to have standing to make an objection.

A tax sale is basically a sale of land to enforce the lien of taxes in favor of the governmental body that assessed the taxes. It is one of the most invasive, if not the most invasive measure employed by local governments – to sell someone's privately owned property for a governmental purpose. This awesome power should only be exercised by adhering to the strict statutory directives from the state legislature. In Greene County, the tax assessments are lawfully made by the county and the municipalities located in the county. According to T.C.A. 67-5-2404(3), it is the duty of the county trustee and county mayor to cause the tax suit to be brought to enforce the lien of taxes. This statute, notably, does not mention the county commission. There is another statute that gives the municipalities the right to use the trustee's tax suit to enforce their lien of city taxes as well, but the county commissions are given no statutory say in the collection of city taxes either. The only rights conferred upon the county commissions in the tax suit statutes is the ability to tell the clerk of the court conducting the sale not to bid on certain properties that the county does not wish to purchase.

Should the trustee and/or county mayor fail to bring suit to enforce tax liens and collect taxes, the Tennessee Legislature has legislatively decreed that it then falls to the district attorney general to do so. See T.C.A. 67-5-2406. Here, the trustee and county mayor are complying with their statutory duty to collect the taxes, so no intervention by the district attorney general has been called for.

Based on the above law, it is doubtful that the county commission in Greene County has standing to object to the manner in which tax sales are conducted. The Tennessee Legislature has expressly condoned online tax sales. See T.C.A. 67-5-2501(a)(1). Since the State has condoned online sales, it is doubtful that a valid objection exists as to this manner of sale; however, the Court is respectful of the wishes and desires of the Greene County Commission, and they raise some valid points to be considered as expressed cogently by Attorney Woolsey. In short, even though the Commission lacks statutory standing to conduct the tax suits as a body, the Court intends to facilitate the consideration of their opinions with respect to the manner in which future tax sales are conducted. In the Court's opinion, all the decision makers should get along and be respectful of each other when it comes to the good of the county and the people who live in it.

It is therefore ORDERED that the motion to delay the upcoming tax sale is respectfully overruled.

DISCUSSION:

Mayor Woodby introduced Lisa Tipton and Robin Ledford of Families Free which is a program of inpatient rehab for non-violent crimes. They have a five-year lease agreement serving nine counties. Most counties have used the Opioid Settlement for their part of funding the program. They are asking Greene County to pay $600,000 over a three-year period for Mayor Morrison to be a member of the board, they cover liability insurance on the treatment services with the state retaining some of the liability responsibility. Judge Rice informed the committee that their hope is the Department of Corrections will take over program funding. Concerns of how many spots would be available for Greene County since the spots would be divided with nine counties and the ongoing funding of the facility. Mayor Morrison recommends to do due diligence and if the Commission desires to join, it could be budgeted in the category of contributions July 1. Committee did not feel like they had enough information to make a decision in January.

Teddy Lawing recommended to the committee to fund Anti-Drug Coalition $37, 500 now and then in put $37,500 in the budget for school programs that the LEAD program may not reach. Danny recommended including the funding in the budgeting process to fund for an entire year. Recommendation would be taken to School Board by SRO's. Commissioner Peters recommended to have someone from the Anti-Drug Coalition to be at the January Budget Meeting.

Motion was made by Commissioner Burkey and seconded by Commissioner Quillen to approve budget amendment for Building and Zoning transfers. Motion carried with no opposition.
